ABOUT CITIZENS AGAINST GOVERNMENT WASTE

Citizens Against Government Waste (CAGW) is a nonpartisan 501(c)(3) organization with more than 1 million members and supporters nationwide that works to eliminate waste, fraud, abuse, and mismanagement in government. Our investigative research and public education efforts promote a government that is transparent, accountable, and fiscally sound.

SECURE YOUR VALUES AND VISION

Including CAGW in your will or estate plans is more than an act of responsible planning.

It is a statement of your vision and conviction that our government must be accountable to its citizens.

It is an affirmation of your belief that Americans, unshackled from profligate, overreaching government, can enjoy prosperous, fruitful lives.

It is a testament to your confidence that CAGW will be a good steward of your gift as we continue to champion our shared principles and values.

YOUR LEGACY IN ACTION

Inspired by the principles and passion of President Reagan and J. Peter Grace, CAGW has rooted out wasteful spending and government mismanagement in all its forms since 1984, saving taxpayers more than $1.8 trillion in the process.

Your legacy commitment will extend this impact significantly, as CAGW:

- Investigates and exposes how government misspends Americans' hard-earned tax dollars;
- Researches how government programs can be more cost-effective and responsive to those served;
- Educates the public, the media, and policymakers about which government programs are (and aren't) worth the cost; and,
- Acts as a vocal spokesperson on behalf of taxpayers.

To learn more about how you can advance this essential work, please contact CAGW Director of Development Martin Rundle at 1-800-872-3328 or jpgsociety@cagw.org.
